Gentlemen:—Theconfidence I have in Perry Davis'
Pain Killer as a remed; for Colds. Coughs, Burns Sprains, and Rhenmatism, for the cure of which have snecessfully used it, induces me to cheerfully recommered its virtues to others.

A few months ago I had recoursn to it to destroy a felon; although I had never heard of its being used for that purpose; but having suffered intensely from a former one, and having no other remeds at hand, I applied the Pain Killer freels for nhout fifteen minutes at evening, and repented the application very briefly the next morning, which entirely destroyed the felon, and increased my confidence in the utility of the remedy.

Army Statistics.

In the process of expansion, by which our army has increased, and is increasing, some fifteen or twenty fold, few persons have been able to keep clearly before their eyes the true relations and proportions of that increase. It must be borne in mind that the regular army, although largely increased, is kept distinct from the volunteer force raised "for the war."

According to recent acts of Congress, and appointments made in accordance therewith, the regular army is designed to consist of six held ou the first Wednesday in November, regiments of eavalry, an increase of one; five regiments of artillery, an increase of one; and nineteen regiments of infantry, an inerease of nine. EFFECT OF PRIVATEERING ON OUR SOUTH AMERICAN TRADE.—Great complaints are made of the disadvantages our vessels labor under in competing with foreign vessels in our trade with the West Indies and South America, in consequence of the supposed liability to capture by the privateers of the rehels. Scarcely a vessel now arrives here from South American ports except in ballast, Thos. P. Porter, of Woodford county, late and the master of a vessel recently returned from Rio Janeiro informs us that he could not obtain a cargo of coffee at that port, although he offered to bring it for the merest triffe, and load and discharge it at his own expense, while British and other foreign ves-A flank attack on the Confederates by sels were loading at one dollar and seventeen an advance from California through Arizona cents per bag. Under such circumstances ean we wonder that our merchants are protecting their interest by placing their vessels under foreign flags? Ever since the report of the first capture of one of our vessels by the Jeff. Davis, matters, so far as our West Indian and South American trade is concerned, have been daily getting worse, until even odr offers to carry cargoes free are scouted at, and our shipmasters subjected to the insults of every petty power with whom they are brought commercially in contact. This humiliating state of things will soon be put an end to. The large naval expeditions now fitting out against the Southern coust will close up every issue by which privateers are enabled to get to the ocean, or to return with their prizes. Once all these rat-holes are hermetically sealed up, there will be an end to privateering, and our mercantile marine will not he long in regaining all the advantuges it has lost.—N. Y. Herald.

In the course of the season just concluded a lecture on "The Armed Forces of Europe" was delivered, at the United Service Institution, by Capt. Before this the Quartermaster of the Massachusetts Fifteenth had gone alone to a point within a mile of the village, had returned, crossed the river, and reported to Gen. Stone that there were no hostilo forces in that region. But after Colonel Devan fell back his men were placed in a semi-circular clearing or natural forest opening covering. clearing, or natural forest opening, covering lars. five or six acres, with its base resting on the edge of the hights, and flanked and fronted by forest. The enemy, becoming bolder, advanced in scattered parties to the edge of these woods, and from 10 A. M. till 4 P. M. kept up a random, annoying fire upon our men. The latter sheltered themselves as well as they could, lying just below the ridge, and awaited re-inforcements. At four, then, our whole force had crossed and ascended, Colonel Baker and staff with the rest, and the troops were suffering somewhat from the concealed enemy's fire. Many had dropped and been carried down the hill.

We asked Colonel Baker what he thought of affairs. He said that he thought we had a good position; could fall back for shelter hehind the ridge. "Yes," said we, "but what's in those woods?" He answered: "I think the enemy are concealed on our right." Ir vate had reported that there was no forco on the left, but a deep ravine, hidden by the woods. We then proposed sending skirmishers to make a reconnoissance on the right, and Captain Markoe, Second Lientenant Williams, and myself advanced with companies A and D of the California Regiment. Company A got in front on rising ground, in skirmishing

The whole woods around swarmed with them. They had no artillery and no cavalry. Our Rhode Islanders, except the officers, deserted their gans, but Col. Baker, Lieut. Col. Wistar, Col. Stone being persuaded that no important force of the enemy remained along, the upper Potomac, and in obedience to orders from headquarters, commenced his passage of the river at Harrison's Island. The point of transit was about five miles above Edwards' Ferry, and nearly an equal distance from Leesburg. The Island is a low, fertile strip of hand, several miles in length, so dividing the river that the Maryland channel is not a furlong in width, and that on the Virginia side not more than 200 that on the Virginia side not more than 200 sunk. A thousand men thronged the further bank. Muskets, coats, and everything were S x companies of the Fiftventh Massachusetts Regiment, under Col. we publish this morning further accounts of the battle near Leesburg. From the unsate of telographic fiction which has sought to cover up the nature of this affair, and to turn it into a victory, or a matter of little consequence, the truth at length emerges that a gross blunder in General-hip has been committed, which has sacrificed a large number of men, and has brought heavy disasters upon our cause. We eare not how high in rank the head may be on whom this responsibility rests, he should never again be intrusted with the lives of soldiers. Until we cease trying to make victories out of defeats, and giving triumphal receptions to troops who have fled from the field of battle, we shall have nothing else. If that is to be the standard of Generalship, and of courage, men will udapt themselves to it. Any force could have been sent over the tent required; and before crossing our generals should have known something of the number they would have to encounter. But nothing was known of the enemy's force on the opposite bluff. Our management was as ignorant as at the advance on Bull Run, ten thousand additional troops who could have been spared from Washington, were not sent needed. Probably the same means were ta-ken to shut the ears of our officers to all intelligence of the enemy, lest it might come through means of exceptionable complexion.

A much inferior force was sent over where adequate numbers could have been sent; and one rickety old scow was the only means of crossing for several regiments in the face of the enemy. Defeat was inevitable; and with defeat the impossibility of retreat. We have no heart to dwell on the depressing details and our only purpose in this censuro is to give expression to the feeling of the people, which demands the prompt and rigid enforcement of the responsibility on the direction of this affair, which has sacrified so muny brave men, inflicted such disaster on our cause, and depressed the hopes of the people entirely by a gross and inexcusable blunder in general-

Before Marshal Mur ray sent down "the large stove" the porl was served up to us actually as it came out o the barrel, raw, or nearly so. A decline in bristles prevented us from meddling with it appetizing as it was. After breakfast, (eight, casionally before) we were allowed one hour for promenading on a square of earth seven-ty-five feet by eighty. Then came the daily papers, the perusal of which, and completes on the last anticipated attack, occupied some two hours; after that event, the writing to friends, receiving letters, (when any came games of chess, whist. &c., discussing passevents, and in endeavoring to ascertain if the potatoe had become extinct since the 20th July, served to while away the time until the momentons hour of dinner.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. The following letter from Garibaldi has letter that goes out or enters the fort is read been received by the United States Consul at by the officer; if they contain any objection- Antwerp:

TELEGRAPHIC.

PADUCAH, Ky., Oct. 27. Three companies of the 9th Illinois went to Saratoga, 48 miles up the Cumberland river, on Saturday, and attacked a company of rebel cavalry 100 strong, completely routing them. The rebel loss was 13 killed, 24 prisoners, and 52 horses, also all the camp equipage. [Special to the N. Y. Post.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. Some of the Maryland slaveholders in the ricinity of Annapolis complain that many of their slaves have secreted themselves on board the vessels of the coast expedition. Several slaves were found on board the ships, and were returned to their owners.

An officer who has just arrived here from the encampment of Sickles' brigade at Port Tobacco, Md., reports that the rebel steamer Paige yesterday approached the shore at that point and fired on our troops. Her shells fell into our camp, and compelled the men to withdraw to a safe distance from the river.

defense of a people who are dear to me.
G. GARIBALDI. To M. QUIGLEY, U. S. Consul at Antwerp.

Washington, Oct. 28. The Tribune states that one of our correspondents with the great naval expedition writes field, from Hampton Roads on Friday evening last | 5 that he had just been informed on good authority that the private secretary of Com. Dupont, the commander of the fleet, had absconded, enrrying with him the maps and charts and even the scaled orders of the Commodore. We do not vouch for the truth of the report, but only for the fact that the writer is worthy of confidence. We hopo the report may prove erroneous.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29. The Post says a morning journal alarms its renders by a report that the private secretary of Commodore Dupont deserted to the eneiny. Our own correspondent, with the naval expedition, mentions incidentally, as a matter of smull importance, that a master's mate on one of the ships, a crazy fellow, had suddenly disappeared, and it was feared that he had, in a moment of temporary aberration of mind, wandered beyond our lines, where he would be shot by the enemy. We suppose this is the ground of fact on which the startling rumor was founded.

This evenings Commercial prints the following: A prominen't business firm in the city received to-day a letter from the fleet about to sail on the Southern expedition, which partially confirms the statement made this morning in regard to the defection of a promineut naval other and the loss of the sealed orders of the Commodore.

The letter is as follows:

· Dear Sir-Last night a surgeon from the Vanderbilt came on board our vessel and re-ported that the Commodore had been robbed of ill his private papers, plans, charts, and sealed orders by his private clerk; the truitor was supposed to have gone over to the rebels. The effect this new turn of events may give to the whole enterprise ennuot be conjectured.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29. the best renson for believing untrue the rumor that the Private Secretary of Commodore Dupont had abscouded with all the charts, and senled orders of the great naval and military expedition.

ROLLA, Mo., Oct. 29. Thirty-eight more of our wounded soldiers arrived to-day from Springfield, which place they left on Thursday last.

Gen. Price was then at Neosho in Newton county. On Wednesday about 1,000 rebels entered Springfield and took away a gonsiderable quantity of stores left by Col. Taylor.
